

US Navy Corpsman
(Joint Operation)
GITCT-9018
$107.99

Toys City has been a roll these past few months with their modern figures. They're continuing that roll with the new US Navy Corpsman set. Now, first let me preface that there's quite a bit of buzz on the boards that this set really isn't a Navy Corpsman set. I even asked a friend of mine who's a former SARC, and he was kinda iffy on it.

From what I can tell, it's an early-2000s era US Marine Force Recon in VBSS (Visit, Board, Search, & Seizure) uniform and equipment, ready to storm a boat and conduct operations. Now is that a bad thing? Not in my book.

Personally, I welcome some of the earlier made equipment to the latest and greatest coming out. Has been forever since I've seen a nice and complete FSBE rig (BBI did one years ago).

If you missed out when we carried the hard shell rifle cases from ZC World a few months ago, you're in luck, for ZY Toys is coming out with some similar models for you to oogle over. They look to be about the same length as their ZC predecessor, and both have the side carry "luggage" handle, but the ZY model comes with bonus drag wheels with drag handle, as well as egg shell foam inserts (the ZC models just had gray foam).

Also, in addition to tan, olive drab, and black color schemes, ZY Toys will also be releasing a fourth camouflage model (looks like commercial hunting camo to me). As with the ZC World Rifle Cases, I have a gut feeling that these models will be hot sellers.

FIGURES SOLD SEPARATELY

Show On the table.
Mini-gun and Actor figure not included.

When I saw Asia Scale Store's latest Diorama Base, I have to say I was pretty impressed. Their Black Hawk Diorama is a cutaway of the side fuselage of a Sikorsky UH-60 Black Hawk helicopter.

It gives you just enough of the fuselage to man a door gunner, a soldier in the main cabin, and a soldier rappelling out of the chopper. What's unique about this set is that opposed to being a table display only, this diorama base can also be wall mounted.

All you need to add are a few figures and a mini-gun in the door gunner station (a mini-gun mount is included in the set). So if you're wanting to do a Black Hawk Down Dio or a Spec Ops insertion scene, this is the perfect piece.
